Creative Brand Workshop

Powered by Grove Partners & ic design

Knowing how to present your company's brand to engage your clients and to win new business is of essence when developing a communication strategy with impact.

Join us for a morning's practical workshop on how to successfully create, communicate and connect your brand with those who matter to your business.

24 September 2009

St James House, 13 Kensington Square, London W8 5HD

Branding Strategy

Developing a road map to create a brand for a bigger audience

Visual Communication

Images that say more than words

Brand Engagement

How you reach out and connect your brand successfully

The workshop starts with a light breakfast and a brief introduction to the power of branding.

This event is designed for both start ups building a new brand and for companies who are looking for the next stage of expansion, launching into a new market or a new product.

There is no fee to attend this workshop but places are limited, so please book early to avoid disappointment. To register and for further information please email:
